

Do you suffer from...

Indigestion?
Bloating?
Excess Gas?
Burning Sensation?

WHAT'S CAUSING THIS?

Undigested, putrefied food can become poisonous and release toxins in your body.

Acid Reflux is quickly reaching epidemic proportions.

Acid Reflux is non-discriminatory, affecting the young and old alike.

ANTACIDS & DRUGS ARE NOT THE ANSWER! They can actually be harmful and interfere with the body's natural digestive process thus making the problem even worse.

Take control of
ACID REFLUX

ACID REFLUX

Due to undigested food, acid reflux has become an epidemic in our society today. Even infants and toddlers are suffering because they cannot digest many of the formulas on the market today, especially the soy formulas. Adults are suffering because they have destroyed their natural God-given enzymes by consuming too much highly refined and cooked food. When you eat cooked food which contains no enzymes, this food starts to putrefy in your stomach. This putrefaction causes gas, which causes pain, which causes acid reflux. This process can lead to and aggravate any disease in your body.

Undigested food and enzyme deficiency lead to many health problems in your body. Early signs of enzyme deficiency are digestive complaints such as heartburn, indigestion, bloating, gas, and belching. Other complaints include headaches, stomach-aches, diarrhea, constipation, chronic fatigue, and yeast infections. These, in turn, can affect the stomach, small intestine, colon, gall bladder, and liver. There is even a new disease today called G.E.R.D., gastro esophageal reflux disease, which is the result of undigested food. G.E.R.D. can cause reflux of acid into the esophagus and into the lungs causing serious problems. People are simply not digesting food properly which is causing all kinds of problems.

People today are turning to antacids and drugs. This is not the answer. Neither antacids nor drugs help you digest your food. They only relieve the symptoms of undigested food and help relieve gas which is causing the pain. When food is allowed to lay in your body undigested over a period of time, you may have to undergo a procedure called colonoscopy to determine what is going on in the colon. After a period of time, this undigested food will affect the colon. Today, colon cancer has become the number two killer. You must properly digest your food. Nothing digests food but enzymes. You must get to the root of the problem by providing adequate enzymes to digest your food.

HOW WILL ENZYMES HELP?

It has been said where there are no enzymes, there is no life. Deficiency or exhaustion of the body's enzyme production leads to aging, disease, and death. According to Dr. Edward Howell, author of Enzyme Nutrition, vitamins and minerals cannot be absorbed in the body without enzymes.

Americans spend more than 50 billion a year on medical and surgical treatment for digestive problems. More people miss work from digestive problems than any other ailment. Laxatives and diarrhea medications are damaging to the digestive system.

Advanced BioEnzymes by ForYou has corrected thousands of peoples' digestive problems. Advanced BioEnzymes are a safe, all-natural approach and could be the answer to this problem. When taken with food, they help digest fat, protein, and carbohydrates. When taken between meals on an empty stomach, they go into the blood stream to help break down long-term food residue in the blood and help to detoxify the blood.

Advanced BioEnzymes contains all of these:

Protease to digest protein
Amylase to digest complex carbohydrates
Maltase & sucrose to digest simple sugar
Lactase to digest milk
Lipase to digest fat
Cellulase to digest fiber

Other ingredients: Papain, Bromelain with a proprietary blend of barley grass, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, wheat grass, and alfalfa.

Directions: Take one capsule three times daily as a dietary supplement, preferably with meals.

TESTIMONIAL

Before using these products I had little energy, was overweight, and suffered from acid reflux at night and constant heartburn during the day. I could not lie down in bed at night without my food coming back up. I was forced to sleep upright in a recliner for several hours while my food digested before I could lie in a bed and get good rest. Now, I am free from these.
